

Brighton Townhouse

Brighton . UK

The Brighton Townhouse is Stuart Barfoot's own garden where he designed the once tired landscape to be an outdoor living space to incorporate his shared passion for contemporary design and his love for rare and unusual plants.

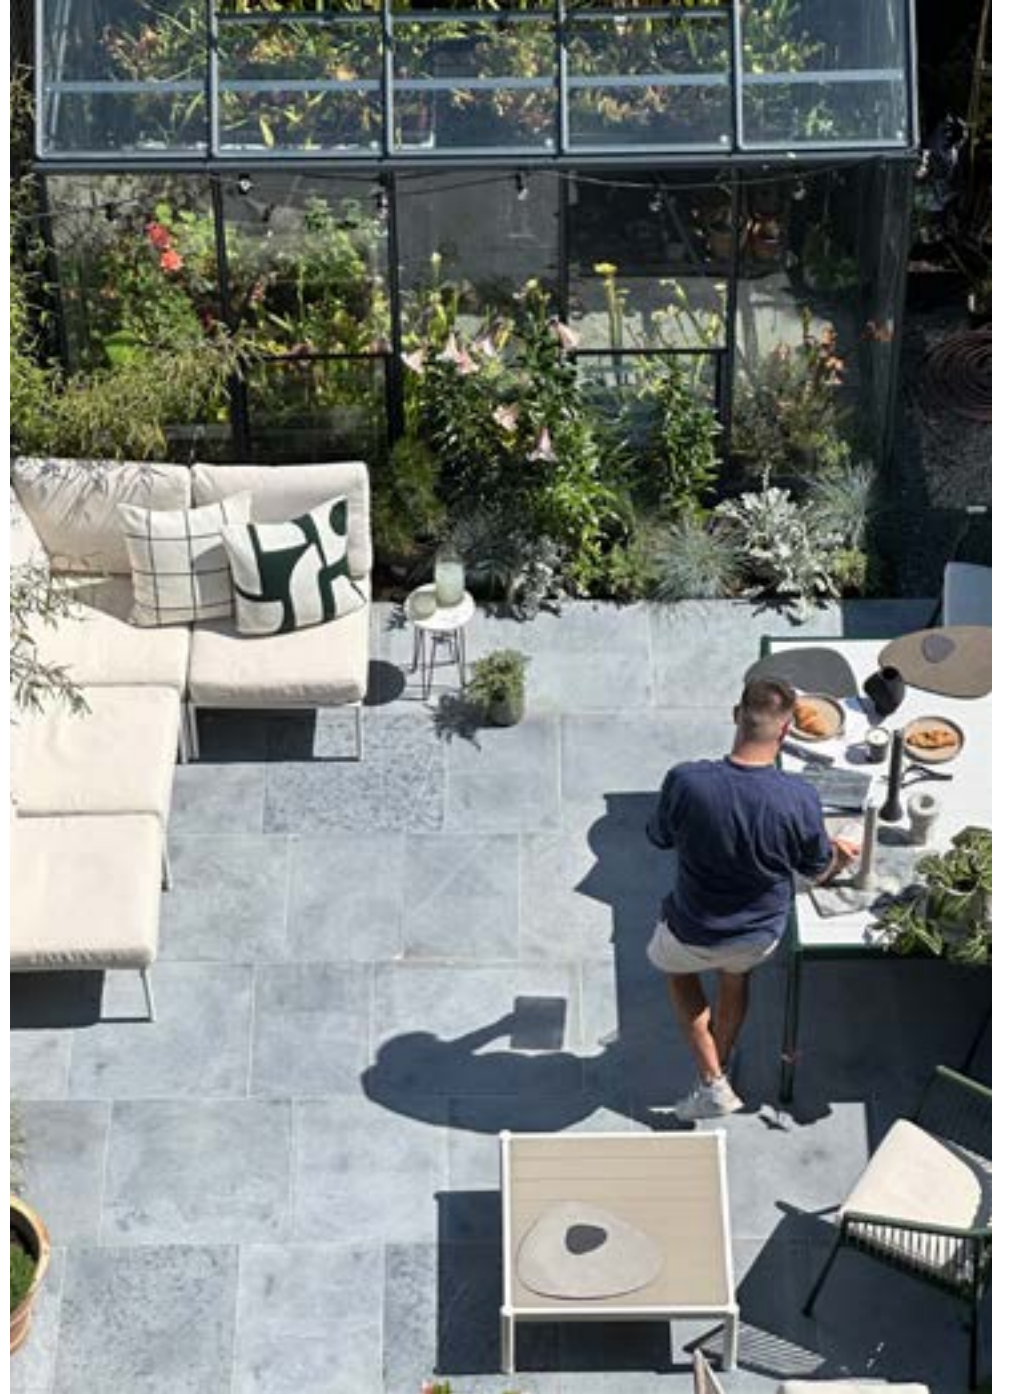

The 45sqm plot is enclosed by a contemporary black slatted fence to provide privacy and a sleek backdrop for the planting. The limestone terrace offers the perfect area for entertaining adjacent to the modern green house where Stuart grows his collection of interesting plants which includes Sarracenia (Pitcher Plant), Slipper Orchards and Nerines.
